NEWS OF GLADES BOYS AND GIRLS IN THE SERVICE

compliments in their organization. This certainly is an admirable feat. However, you are trying to get specific personal information from such a person, as we have from Captain Guy D. Bender, it becomes almost, even though very pleasant, a task.

Most of Captain Bender's first experiences in the Air Force were in his home state, Florida. He received his wings at Marianna and his fighter gunnery training at Tuskegee Army Airfield, then moved to England with the 357th Fighter Group in 1945, and on to Germany later.

He returned to the United States in 1946 and being relieved from active duty later that year he went back to his home in Belle Glade, Florida.

Until his recall in 1953 Captain Bender was Veterans Service officer in his home town and county. He evidently did a splendid job of contacting and helping veterans, even though he says, "It was just routine."

What is known as the "Agricultural Area" among the Corps of Engineers in connection with the overall flood control program — and that is the muck lands around the eastern and southern shores of Lake Okechobee — is receiving this fiscal year the impact of more than $19,000,000 worth of contracts under that overall flood control plan.

Among those items completed are L-1 and L-2, the east and west dikes intended to divert flood waters away from the muck lands, for a total of approximately $2,500,000.

Control now under way include L-7, which connects the West Palm Beach Canal and the Hillboro and the western dike of the Palm Beach County Conservation area, another of the pump-out installations at Twenty-Mile Bend which is to be completed within a short time. These total around $6,600,000.

Three contracts on the Hillboro Canal from the Lake eastward to the Conservation Area and the West Palm Beach Canal westward from the Twenty-Mile Bend installation, half way to the lake. The remainder of the West Palm Beach Canal will be contracted for shortly. These contracts amount to around $7,000,000.

The pump installations on the Hillboro where it enters the Conservation Area, the one at the lake, the Lake Harbor pump and station and culverts partially let and to be let during the fiscal year will amount to close to $2,500,000.

When the widening and deepening of the Miami Canal is let and the improvements on the North New River and the Belle Canals come up for work, more than a dozen more millions will be added to the total.

While few of the works are near enough completed to affect the muck lands very much during the '54 farming season, the next rainy and storm period should see some major benefits accrue to the "Agricultural Area."

Flood and water control effected and anticipated by these combined State and Federal works will benefit the muck lands on the attitude of investors from the north, as well as Floridians.

WERE TOO POOR

It has been the policy of THE HERALD for years to send the paper each week free of charge to local people away from home attending college or in the Armed Services. There just got to be too many of them. Something had to be done.

After long and careful deliberation the Service boys and girls won the nod and continued to get THE HERALD weekly without cost. However, you folks who are away from home are not the only ones who are in need of the paper. We'll be delighted to send them the paper weekly.

Okeechobee Frog Hunter Is Injured

Thomas D. Stocked, Okeechobee frog hunter, was seriously and painfully injured early yesterday morning when he accidentally backed into the propeller of his air boat.

Stocked was alone about 15 miles south of South Bay and three miles from Highway 27 when the accident occurred and encountered much difficulty in reaching the highway with his injuries. He was picked up by a passing motorist and brought to Belle Glade Memorial hospital where he was given treatment by Drs. W. J. White and Ralph Pipes.

Upon arrival at the hospital he was given a blood transfusion and other attention before being transferred to St. Mary's hospital in West Palm Beach where the services of bone and skin specialists are available.

According to the attending physicians the injured man had a large portion of flesh and skin torn from his back, one arm was broken and the other probably fractured, and he lost so much blood the transfusion was immediately necessary. He was taken to West Palm Beach in a weathered Japco truck.

The accident occurred about 1 a. m. and it was 6:30 a. m. before the victim reached the local hospital.

Buster Willis Is Returning Editor Of The Herald

Buster Willis left THE HERALD in February 1943 to become editor of the Yellow Men in the Pacific, and after more than two years as a returned during the Korean war. He is back as manager of the paper.

Buster's service in the Southwest Pacific included Command of Service troops supporting the Marines and Army units during the Korean war. When General McArthur put the big show off of signing with the Japs, Buster was named as Athletic Officer of the 10th Army, Under General Douglas MacArthur.

The nature of his work is indicated in the paper entering some 15 competitions in the Philippine Olympics and winning away with nine championships.

After separation from the Armed Services Buster took heavy equipment and machinery back home before going with the Augusta Herald. When he was recalled for the Korean police action, he was sent to Germany and Austria where he served for 28 months.

With a Publicity Agent's visa, Buster engaged himself in that type of work for the armed services and has served with the Gainesville Sun and the Jacksonville Journal, since returning.

Mrs. Willis, an accomplished musician, and a ten-year-old daughter, Elizabeth, will move to Belle Glade during the early days of October with the Glades as a permanent address. Mrs. T. J. Gantt, mother of Mrs. Willis, will join the family after a visit in North Carolina.

The final score was Belle Glade 18, West Palm Beach 19. We are really out of our girls in holding the score to a tie at West Palm Beach has the advantage in the number of golfers to compete for the team.

Next Monday Belle Glade will play Delray on the local course. The Joe Ziemann announces the Glades Amateur Championship Tournament for the Mayor's Trophy, to begin Oct. 2 through Oct. 4.

TWO KINDS OF STEERS

Did you ever wonder why we have an abundant supply of beef all the year round, instead of just during the late summer and fall when ranchers round up their herds and send them to market? The reason is that there are two kinds of steers.

The first kind is what the meat people call "finished" — a steer which can immediately provide succulent roasts, steaks, stews, hamburger and other dishes. These animals are bought by the packers, and the cuts from them are soon on the nation's dinner tables.

The second kind aren't so well finished. These animals are bought by cattle feeders. They are fed great quantities of grains and grasses and improved in both quality and quantity. Three to six months later they are sent to market again and bought by the packers, at a time when a diminished supply of steers is coming from the ranges. Thus the supply of beef is evened out over the year.

This does more than to assure that we will have plenty of beef available whenever we want it. It also helps to stabilize the beef price structure. Otherwise, beef prices at wholesale and retail would soar between one roundup time and the next.

The meat industry is geared to satisfying our needs in the most efficient and economical fashion, no matter what the date on the calendar.

WASTE IS CRIMINAL

An official of a farm equipment company warns that "Waste in whatever amounts is criminal in free enterprise."

It would be a great blessing to humanity and to civilization if governments were under the same compulsion to cut costs as is private enterprise. No matter how large a private business becomes, it is faced with oblivion the moment management becomes lax and inefficient. There is no legislative body to cover losses at the expense of helpless taxpayers. The result is that inefficient management is speedily replaced. The best that can be done in the case of government is to look with suspicion upon candidates and officials who persistently advocate programs that increase the direct costs of government and consequently mean higher and higher taxes or deficits.

"FREE-CHOICE SYSTEM"

Dean W. I. Myers, College of Agriculture, Cornell University, recently said: "The American way is the free-choice system of private competitive enterprise. It is a profit and loss system. It gives freedom to make a profit or to go broke if you cannot meet competition. . . . There is keen competition among business firms in all lines and it is steadily growing keener. To meet competition successfully businessmen are cutting costs, increasing efficiency, and are intensifying efforts to sell their products."

The consumer can see this on the retail level, where stores of every size and kind are going all out seeking consumer favor. To quote Dean Myers once more, "Competition is the motive force in our steadily rising standard of living."

Sluggo Wins the "Home" Game

Sluggo White, the home town star pitcher, dropped by the other day to talk baseball, and to tell me "on himself."

"Sluggo Sluggo had been baby-sitting. 'I was doing just fine,' he said, 'until it was time for a change.' I called Mom for advice. Sluggo didn't get it right. Then Dad said straight."

"Place the diaper like a baseball diamond with you at bat," he said. "Fold second base over home plate, and pin first and third base on home plate. That did it—with no errors!"

From where I sit, Sluggo's Dad had the idea. Often, like his Mom, a lot of us tend to give advice in our terms without considering the other fellow's way of doing things. Even in choosing your favorite beverage, it's best to think of your neighbor. If you like tea, and I prefer a temperate glass of beer, we should both "play the game" and try to understand each other's point of view.

By H. D. 1076

While we don't want to infringe on the lonely hearts' domain, this seems a logical time to hand out a touch of advice to the lads who insist who took time out this summer to promise to love, honor and split the family paycheck. A New York doctor complains that fiction and the movies always give the idea that after marriage "they live happily ever after." But the good doctor says the idea of matrimony usually has some waves in it.

Disagreements are as natural as holes in a bachelor's socks. You can't love anybody 100% of the time in the same way, the doctor says. So if we take it for granted that nothing's perfect, and that posting never pointed a shortcut to harmony, we'll get over the domestic bumps quicker. There'll be some, and it's better to know there will. That way we'll get married that "happily ever after" and a lot sooner.

It's a r d I understand claims it has 21,800 different books on fishing. However, we never heard of anyone catching a fish with a book. ## Course In Civil Defense Will Be Offered At U of M

A one-week course in civil defense administration will be offered Floridians at the University of Miami November 15-19, featuring nationally known instructors and unusual visual educational aids from the National Civil Defense Staff College at Oleny, Md. It is announced by federal and state CD officials.

Mayors, state and county officials, city and county civil defense directors and other persons with responsibilities for organizing and directing civil defense programs are being urged to attend the school.

Emphasizing the importance of the occasion, FCDA Administrator Val Peterson will be principal speaker at a mass meeting on the opening day, Monday evening. A series of planned, including a realistic public fire-fighting and rescue demonstration by the intermediate department of Sunday School.

The course is one of the first in the nation under a program designed to bring the benefits of the national CD college to the various states. It is being sponsored by the Florida State Civil Defense Council, the University of Miami, the Dade County Civil Defense Council and the Regional Office of the Federal Civil Defense Administration.

Harry E. Brown, Regional FCDA Administrator, points out that the school will cover such topics as the international situation — methods of assessing a community's vulnerability to attack — organization and operation of support areas — role of civil defense in peace-time disasters — civil defense operational problems — methods of establishing local schools and CD training programs — and map exercises for students under simulated attack situations.

GIRLS WIN FINAL QUIZ IN JUNIOR FIRST BAPTIST SS

The third in a series of programs given in the form of a radio quiz was won by the girls in the Jr. department of the First Baptist Church Sunday School. This quiz was on the subject of "Heroes of the Bible", and characters of the Bible who set an example for us to follow mentioned were: Paul, Samuel, Abraham, Ruth, Esther and Ishah.

The panel of Experts for the morning were: Carolyn Markham, Jimmie Lee Mills, Georgiana Mills, Jackie Croft, Sammy Knight, Robbie Parrish, Freddie Forsee and Ronnie Geckler. The devotional thought in mind was that Jesus is the perfect example for all to follow. Early music was played by Susan Clark and Martha Faye Davidson was pianist for the program. Next Sunday the program will be on the theme of "We are Being Promoted", and the girls of the school will be the honored guests as they will be promoted into the intermediate department of Sunday School.

The weekly banner went to the class of Mr. Vernon Jones' 12 year boys with an all high grade of 100 percent. All members of this class were present and all were 100 percent in the 8 points required to become 100 percent pupils. This is indeed a good record for a class who was without a permanent teacher the greater part of the year. ## Mexican Scientist Departs After Fibre Crop Study At Experiment Station Under Dr. R. V. Allison

Dr. Julio Amador and his family left last week for Mexico, via Cuba and the Yucatan Peninsula after spending the summer in Belle Glade where Dr. Allison has been studying the technological aspects of fibre crops under the expert guidance of Dr. R. V. Allison of the Everglades Experiment Station.

Dr. Amador's studies were made possible through the Bank of Mexico, which is the National Bank, and the National Bank of Commerce who sponsor an Industrial Research Institute, and where Mr. Amador is currently employed.

According to Dr. Amador the prime interest of the Institute is in studying the industrial possibilities of raw material native to Mexico. Dr. Amador Deschamps, Bio-Chemist with the Research Institute, is credited with sending Dr. Amador to the Everglades Experiment Station to study the mechanical aspects of fibre crops.

Dr. Amador made a trip to Cuba in late 1953 to look over the fibre crop operation there and returned to Mexico through Florida, stopping at the local Station to speak with Dr. Allison. Dr. Allison and Dr. Amador kept up an official correspondence with the result that Dr. Allison was encouraged to visit Mexico in November of 1953 when he was consulted in the initiation of a fibre research program in Mexico.

Dr. Allison recommended that someone should be sent to Belle Glade to make a study of the harvesting, decortication, drying, baling and de-gumming of the fibres.

Dr. Amador studied methods for Ramie, Kenaf, Jute, and Sansevieria. He stated that the agronomic studies are being carried out at the Tropical Agricultural Experiment Station at Chapala, Mexico, which is close to the Guatemala border. To date they have found out that the best varieties grown here have not proved successful in Chapala. The studies have been carried on with many varieties obtained from the Everglades Experiment Station.

Dr. Amador speaks English fluently, learning it from associations, since his father, Amador Amador, has been in Foreign Service for 37 years. His brother is also in the Foreign Service, now stationed at the legation at Stockholm, Sweden.

Dr. Amador studied mechanical engineering at Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge, graduating in 1948 and receiving his Master's Degree in Mechanical Engineering from the same University one year later. He joined the staff of the Industrial Research Institute in 1950.

This young couple had no definite impression left with them of the Everglades people. They are very friendly and they found southern hospitality something long to remember. It was their first trip to Florida and Mrs. Amador's first trip to the U. S. Dr. Amador said he had learned a lot from a professional standpoint and that it had been hard to assimilate so much in such a short time.

On their return trip a very short stop at the Experiment Station in Belle Glade was planned to make a hurried study of the benevolent industry.

- FORD is V-8 powered.
- FORD is styled over its price
- FORD is more comfortable than its price indicates
- FORD is built better than its price indicates
- FORD is worth more when you sell it, too

It comes down to this: nothing at the price compares with the '54 Ford. It is the only car in its field offering a V-8 engine. And that V-8 is the industry's most modern: a 130-h.p. Y-block V-8! Ford is the only car in its field with a truly modern suspension... Bull-Train Ford Suspension. No car without it can ride so comfortably... handle so easily. Ford is also the only truly modern-styled car in its field. You see that at a glance. Because no other car in Ford's field can offer these features until late on, your '54 Ford is up to date when competitive makes are old hat! That spells extra trade-in value.
